RUDOLPH MUNK'S BODY WAS BROUGHT HOME THIS MORNING.

Star Football Player Met His Death in Game Against Bethany at Wheeling Saturday.

OPPOSING PLAYER WANTED

"Tommy" McCoy is Charged With Murder by the West Virginia Authorities—Says He Struck Munk. The Funeral Tomorrow.

Rudolph Munk, captain and left half back of the University of West Virginia football team and the greatest football player Connellsville ever contributed to the game, met death on the gridiron at Wheeling Saturday in the annual game between West Virginia and Bethany College. The body was brought home today. All that is mortal of the lad who was a typical young American college youth, clean, courageous and possessed of an indomitable spirit, rests in a casket in the Fayette street home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Munk, where they and his brothers and sisters are prostrated from the shock.

It is the first death in the family. There were thirteen children in the family and of these Rudolph was the fourth. He was 21 years, six months old and last Tuesday cast his first vote. It was the last time his many friends here saw him alive. The night of the election there was a family reunion at the Munk home, all of the children being present. The next day Rudolph left for Morgantown. That was the last time he was seen alive by his parents, sisters and brothers, and the news that came Saturday night, that of his serious injury and later tolling of his death, was a severe shock to all.

Every game that West Virginia played this year caused worry to the Munk family. Last year, on Thanksgiving Day, Rudolph was so badly injured that it was feared he could not recover. Since then the family pleaded with him to give up the game, but he declined. He feared his teammates might say he was not game. He was injured often this year, but never seriously. Indeed, it was stated by West Virginia University students, that on did not play a full game all season. In spite of this, he is said to have felt better just before the Bethany game. In which he met his death, than at any previous time this season.

Stroke From Beating.
Out of the diverse conflicting and conflicting stories of the contest in which Rudolph met his death, that fact seems clear that he was not injured by accident, but by the brutal and恣意的 attack of some member of the Bethany team. Rudolph's name is to effect that "Tommy" McCoy, an end on the Bethany team, deliberately struck Rudolph as he headed the interference around the end zone with a blow to the head, McCoy and the ball. Munk fell with McCoy on top of him. He did not rise. There was but two minutes left to play and it was the final period. Umpire Young, who saw the play, immediately called McCoy for unnecessary roughness and the player left the field without a protest.

Manager H. D. Pocock of the West Virginia University football team accompanied the injured player to the hospital. There he received the best attention. The accident happened shortly after 5 o'clock. None of his fellow players thought the injury serious. Neither did Pocock, who was by his bedside. After the injury had been given the minimum and the hour grew on, the injured lad seemed to lose ground. He did not regain consciousness.

At 5 o'clock there was a disconcerted note from the morgue. Pocock realized what it meant and made his way to telephone. Calling up the hotel where the West Virginia players were staying, Pocock told the boys to get word to Connellsville. At 8:15 the player died.

The members of the team were badly broken up over their captain's death. Munk was a popular player and deservedly so. Although this was but his second year at the Morgantown school, he had honored the memory of the team. He was regarded as one of the brilliant stars of the team and was always feared by opposing teams.

Wise Always Star.
Most of the boys around town who knew Rudolph Munk or "Button" as he was generally called, can remember the time when he did not play football. Neither can they recall when he was not a star. For a number of years he was captain and quarterback of the Connellsville High School eleven and during the time of his attending, was one of the leading stars of the team and was always feared by opposing teams.

The arrangements for the funeral have been made. There will be a regular high mass at the Immaculate Conception Church Wednesday morning at 9:30. Besides his parents, the dead boy is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Gertrude, Mrs. Maurice Lawrence, Cecilia, Arthur, George, John, Frank, William, Milton and Jean. All live at home except Mrs. Renner, who resides at Scottdale.

Umpire Young Does Not Talk Further

United Press Telegram.
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—Attorney Homer N. Young, who has told him he is the man now charging Thomas A. McCoy with murder in connection with the death of Captain Rudolph Munk of West Virginia, was asked at Wheeling, in his office here today to confirm or deny the statement attributed to him that he had seen McCoy deliberately strike Munk.

Asked whether he expected to be called as a witness when the case comes to trial, he declined to say to that officer, I regard the whole affair and if I had dreamed anything like that would have happened I would never have believed the game was safe. McCoy, a star football player at Gettysburg, umpired the game at Wheeling Saturday.

"Being an attorney," he said, "I know when I have talked too much, I will not discuss the matter further."

PACKER SCHENK NOW RECOVERING.

But It Will Be Months Before He Regains Health, If Ever.

WAITING ON THE SURGEON

When Dr. Ackermann Returns to Wheeling the Time Will Be Set for Preliminary Hearing of Mrs. Schenk by Authorities.

United Press Telegram.

WHEELING, Nov. 14.—Prosecuting Attorney Kundman declared today there has been no new developments in the Schenk poisoning case, but that it was likely the date of the preliminary hearing would be fixed before sundown today.

The condition of John Schenk, the millionaire packer, is slightly better this afternoon and the physician now believes he will recover, but he will be months, possibly years, in regaining his health, if he ever fully recovers.

It was announced today that Dr. Ackermann, one of the leading surgeons of the city and the principal witness in the case, who has been in Chicago attending a meeting of surgeons, will be here tonight and the State is waiting for him before they set the time for Mrs. Schenk's preliminary hearing.

Bethany Coach to Give Version

United Press Telegram.

BETHANY, W. Va., Nov. 14.—Summons to appear at the Coroner's inquest in Wheeling this evening were served here today on Coach J. N. Townsend, Captain Honley and Rudy, a player on the Indiana team. They will be called to the dock to testify.

President T. E. Crumbett of the college addressed the students of Bethany in chapel this morning deplored the accident. Resolutions expressing regret were adopted by a committee of students, faculty and others, offering their sympathy to the widow and the family.

Former injury Not True.

Physical holdup post mortem explanation of the injury. Drs. E. B. Plant and W. C. Ulert, testified at the inquest that death was due to a blow to the brain and could not have been caused by a fall or a blow to the head.

President T. E. Crumbett of the college addressed the students of Bethany in chapel this morning deplored the accident. Resolutions expressing regret were adopted by a committee of students, faculty and others, offering their sympathy to the widow and the family.

Rev. C. M. Watson tendered his resignation as pastor of the Christian church at the regular services yesterday morning. The resignation will be accepted with regret by the congregation.

Rev. Watson came to Connellsville last night to accept the call of the First Christian church at Norfolk, Va.

Rev. Watson's resignation takes effect February 1. In his letter to the trustees he explained that it is convenient to accept the call of the First Christian church at Norfolk, Va.

J. L. Kurtz and J. L. Gurne were appointed a committee to make inquiries regarding securing a new pastor.

Rev. Watson's successor here for seven years coming here direct from the Yale theological college.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 11.—The inquest by Coroner Rogers into the death of Rudolph Munk was adjourned to be completed this evening when Thomas McCoy will be brought before the Coroner. Should Coroner Rogers not examine the Bethany player, McCoy will probably be arraigned before Judge Hoban by whom the warrant was issued.

Constable Wickham of Wheeling was instructed to go to Bethany this afternoon when McCoy will arrive there and bring him here.

TEAM TO DECIDE AT A MEETING

Tomorrow Whether Connellsville High Will Play Out Schedule.

PLAYERS MUST HAVE PERMITS

If the Remaining Games Are To Be Played From Their Parents Giving Their Consent to Take Part—Rules Not to Blame Says Cobaugh.

Whether the Connellsville High School football team will cancel its schedule for the balance of the season owing to the death of Rudolph Munk will be determined at a meeting of the team which will be held tomorrow.

Principal Cobaugh stated today that if the schedule is to be completed it will permit no player to participate without the full consent of his parents. Mr. Cobaugh does not think that Munk's death was caused by the rules of the game and does not think there is any more danger in the game than there has always been. He thinks the new rules have lessened the chances of injury.

After the way the team got through the Kiski game on Saturday, when it played against men averaging from 20 to 30 pounds to the man heavier, the faculty does not believe the remaining games of the season are such to cause apprehension of injury.

The whole matter will be threshed out at the meeting tomorrow. The death of Munk was a hard blow to many at High School who remembered Rudolph as a good student and a likable young man. He was very popular at the High school here, as is his younger brother, Arthur, a half back on the team this year.

Of the four games played here this season, in which approximately 100 players have participated, the most serious injury has been a broken shoulder to an East Liberty player.

STRIKER SUFFERED.

Ashamed to Ask Police for Lodging He Slept in a Barn.

Ashamed to come a second time to the police station for a night's lodging and afraid to spend the night on the coke ovens for fear of arrest, Charles Wagner, a striking coal miner of Phillipsburg, near Johnstown, sought refuge Saturday night in the stable in the rear of a home at No. 208 East Fayette street.

He was discovered at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, suffering keenly from exhaustion and exposure. The people on whose property the stable was located took Wagner in and called the police. They gave him hot coffee and bread.

Chief of Police George Hotzel and Officer Thomas McDonald brought the miner to the lockup and cared for him until this morning when he remained until this morning when he remained upon going away.

MUNK'S BODY BROUGHT HOME.

Arthur Munk is this year a star half-back on the High School team. Saturday he was slightly hurt in the game at Kiski, sustaining a twisted leg. He did not learn of his brother's death until the coroner's inquest home Saturday night from Pittsburgh.

What Other Coaches Say.

Coach Stewart of Allegheny College does not believe that the death of Rudolph Munk of Westinghouse University has had any influence on the rules of the game of football. Coach Stewart declared unnecessary roughness and declared officials of the game should have closely watched this.

"It's clear of Penn State and the University of Pitt that it's safe for its gritty, energetic players. McCleary questioned whether Munk was in physical shape for a grueling football game this year."

Coach Joseph Thompson of Pitt, said, "Munk's death will have absolutely no effect on the game at Pitt. While we all regret it very much it cannot influence the game one way or another. Munk was a good football player, was a man of small physique. The Pitt team will send a wreath of flowers."

Munk was not only a good football player but good at baseball also. He played a few games for both Bucknell and West Virginia.

GRAMBLETT'S STATEMENT.

Bethany President Says Team's Schedule Will Not Be Cancelled.

BETHANY, W. Va.—Now that President George L. Gramblett and his colleagues returned to his home last evening, he said that no action had been taken by the faculty in regard to the accident in which, while resulting in the death of Lincoln Stark, the captain of the Virginia University team, in the game Saturday against the Bothell team.

President Gramblett said that the faculty would meet today when the matter would be given consideration. "The Bothell team will not be entertained," said President Gramblett. "I was at the game at Wheeling, but did not see the play in which the accident happened. The game was a rough one and our coaches appealed to the officials for a different decision, asking them to stop the slugging. The Morgantown players were the culprits in this but the opinion is that McCoy took a chance to get even. McCoy is a coach and a student. He has interests in the fall football team, but was a mere student and left the college 10 days ago and came back on purpose to play this game. He left for his home in Canton last night after the game."

"I understand from the coach of our team that Munk was not in condition to play and should not have started in the game. Our coach says he had it from the Morgantown team that the latter did not want Munk to start in the game."

A BRIDGE PARTY.

At Which Dr. Katherine Wakefield Was Hostess Saturday.

Dainty red and white appointments marked a large bridge party at which Dr. Katherine Wakefield was hostess Saturday afternoon in her home on East Main street. Nine tables were brought into play for the game and the prizes were awarded to Miss Dorothy DuShane and Mrs. W. H. Hoffman, Mrs. T. M. Jenkins of Pittsburgh; Miss Wakefield of Uniontown; Miss Dorothy DuShane of St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. W. H. Clingerman and Miss Jessie Brown of Scottdale were the out of town guests.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

The Charge Made Against Sadie Blitner, a Connellsville Woman.

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 14.—(Special) The information against Sadie Blitner of Connellsville, was returned to court this morning. C. W. Foreman to prosecute, assault and battery being the charge.

On October 6th Sadie is alleged to have entered the plaintiff's home and made a malicious assault upon Mrs. Emma Foreman, striking and kicking her and inflicting grievous bodily injuries.

The hearing was set for October 8 before Squire W. P. Clark but the defendant waived the proceeding. John Dugger furnished $200 bail for her release. All of the parties involved live on the West Side.

Squire Clark also made return in the assault and battery case of George Smith, prosecuted by George S. Kuei for an alleged offense committed on October 12th in a Water street hotel in Connellsville.

EASY TO LOSE THINGS.

Every One Knows the Perversity of Inanimate Objects.

Who, I wonder, who has not at times noticed the almost devilish ingenuity of inanimate things display in getting lost? You know just where you put the saw or the hatchet or the tack hammer but when you want them they are not there. You lay a paper in a particular place and when you want it, it has apparently gotten off and walked off of its own accord. Unfortunately, too, valuable things are just as likely to go astray as any other inanimate objects—a mighty good reason why you should collect all your valuable papers and place them in a safe deposit box in the strong vaults of the First National Bank of Connellsville. There they will be absolutely secure—they cannot go astray—and only you, yourself, will have access to them. The cost merely nominal.

PROCESS ISSUED.

Lewis Mahon Wanted by Law to Settle Some Costs.

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 14.—A process was issued today for the arrest of Lewis Mahon, prosecutor of Mike Manusen at the last session of criminal court.

The defendant was charged with selling cigarettes and cigarette papers to minors on two occasions and furnishing tobacco to persons under 16 years of age. An ignorantious bill was returned by the Grand Jury and the costs placed on Mahon.

They amount to about $20 and the account is still open.

STORE AND HOUSE

Go Up in Smoke at Swaugertown This Morning.

The store of the Union Stock Company, composed of colored stockholders along the Swaugertown road, was totally destroyed by fire early this morning, together with the dwelling of Sam Anderson, president of the company.

The fire department responded to the call and saved the home of Mrs. Asaph Cole and other buildings in the neighborhood. The frenzies from here, including the West Side volunteers, did all the work.

THE MURDEROUSGAME OF FOOTBALL.

Year by year the rules of football are revised with the ostensible object of avoiding the accidents fatal and otherwise, which commonly characterize the game; but the accidents continue to happen just the same, and the question is brought home forcibly to Connellsville people by the death of one of their popular young men.

It is evident that the designers and managers of football have signally failed to eliminate its dangerous tendencies and that it is time for the authorities to take the matter up.

Pugilism is forbidden in every State of the Union but one; yet, having due consideration for the number of persons organized in the respective sports, it is safe to say that pugilism has caused fewer deaths than football.

Bulldogging in Mexico is abhorred by intelligent people the world over, yet its human victims are few compared with those slaughtered on the football field.

French bulldog has become a joke, however deadly its sound, compared with American football.

In deference to our national spirit of humanity, all these practices are practically forbidden in the United States, yet football is allowed to remain. The fact does not speak well for American consistency.

The rules of football should be radically amended, or the game absolutely banned. As it is now played IT ENCOURAGES BRUTALITY AND INVITES MURDER.

A fine player courts his own destruction. It is the aim of the opposition to put him out of the game, and there are always some who are willing to do it by foul means if it cannot be done fairly.

Judging from the testimony thus far adduced THAT IS WHAT HAPPENED TO MUNK.

THE SHAMELESSFIRE INSURANCE TRUST.

What relation Boards of Underwriters hold to fire insurance rates and rules has always been somewhat hazy to the average lay mind, but litigation pending in the Allegheny courts sheds some light upon the question and reveals some hitherto unsuspected facts.

According to the Revealers and Enlighteners, Progressive Republicans and Obstructionist Democrats, there are Trusts and Trusts. But about the worst combine yet discovered is the average Board of Underwriters. The members take up a Tyrranical Insurance Trust, and the O. K. stamp of this trust must go on every policy before it is sold.

The insurance combine seems to have a great deal more to say about living insurance rates than the companies themselves. This particular Trust is worth looking into further. Connellsville is presumed to have good insurance rates, but comparison with other towns won't hurt.

Insurance rates and rules make up an eminently proper subject for the consideration of the Chamber of Commerce.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS.

"A Plea for Business," is how the Pittsburgh Gazette Times headlines John W. Boyle's gentle chiding of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce for its apparent loss of the proper sense of commercial direction. Our esteemed contemporary in all art and timely manner remarks:

The president of a member of the Chamber of Commerce at Thursday evening meeting that that body devote greater attention to business and less to politics. He said that the chamber had spread its activities over too vast a field. This not only diminishes its force, but tends to discourage new membership, and to reduce its effectiveness. Undoubtedly, the chamber is right, and such an organization is to profit all the community commercially and industrially. There is, of course, no objection to the Chamber taking its sentiments on those of Pittsburgh business men on subjects of public interest or movements of whatever nature. It is only when the chamber is involved, but the great risk when quasi-political matters are at issue, is that they may become paramount to the injury of more tangible problems.

The point made on Thursday evening, in favor of a modification of the Chamber's practice, is especially applicable to the question of small manufacturers and diversification of industries. This vegetable organization, which ought to be more practical, might more easily accomplish its purpose than the existing large organizations.

Wheeling is accused of having a private poison squad.

Count Tolstoy has left his wife and fled to the mountains to dwell with the peasants in poverty. When a man loses away from his wife and home in this country it is usually with another man's wife or other people's money, or both.

The Western Maryland bridges look as if they were built to stay.

With the western Maryland under actual construction, and a threat to scuttle the South Penn charter and build that line, looks as if the community of interest between the two have to be broken at right angles. There is little in no room left conveniently to Pittsburgh or within the Pittsburgh zone for the establishment of mammoth plants such as have made our territory famous throughout the world. There are sites to be had and the need is becoming increasingly urgent, for the introduction of smaller lines of manufacture of other kinds and yet allied to the present. The need will be the only site available in the country. What folks are cordially invited to come down.

Blinding snow storms are more dangerous on land than on sea and especially in the railroad service.

The law against bearing arms is being improved upon in the most dangerous Klondike but it does not seem to make any difference to the festive foreign element. A hatchet serves a murderous purpose quite as well as a revolver.

If the Chamber of Commerce will go into this problem with all the energy of which it is undoubtedly capable it will not be long in achieving a new record of usefulness. In addition there ought to be no reorganization of ef-

RELIGIOUS PARADE ON FOR SCOTTDALE.

Weather Permitting It Will Be Held Tomorrow
Evening.

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED

In the Evangelistic Services That Are Being Held in the Tabernacle in the Mill Town—The Meetings Held on Sunday.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, Nov. 11.—A great religious parade is planned for the Davis and Mills series of evangelistic meetings which are going on here, and which packed the tabernacle with over 2,500 people yesterday evening, when many were unable to get inside. The announcement was made just evening and was taken up with enthusiasm that the parade is to be tomorrow night if the weather is good as now. Committees were appointed as follows: Automobiles, about 60 in town, to be secured by G. P. Kelly and Dr. O. C. Engle; Horseback riders and sides, Mr. R. Francis, J. O. Sherrill and M. M. Trout; Bands, three of them offered to take part in ready, J. Frank Hardy, Business man, J. S. Johnston, C. E. Albert and F. V. Perry; Marching organizations, John Gordon, who was captain marshal of the Halloween parade, B. McFarland of the mill's force and F. M. Schantz, Director of the Y. M. C. A.; City officials, Burgess R. T. Ellis and M. L. Hawens, President of Council. There will be a closing up of the tabernacle during the parade, and no one will be allowed in until after the parade is over. The White Brigade will take part, but the parade is not for boys and girls but for men and women. All the city officials are to be out, every order that will take part is invited for every business man no matter who he is invited to take part, all the young fellows of town, and every man is to wear a white shirt. The cutting up of choco cloth will be going on mortally for the next several hours.

The Sunday school rally yesterday, the meeting for church officials and members in the afternoon and the great night meeting were so immense and filled with such grandeur and manifestations that those of experience in such things say that they have not been in their knowledge surpassed. Much of the Sunday schools sang a hymn this morning, and after it came the Chautauque suite by the balance of the audience, which filled the tabernacle. There were probably 2,000 men, women and children present. The most remarkable thing perhaps was the unification of the churches in this work. Minister after minister and Sunday school superintendent after Sunday school superintendent spoke inspiring and feeling that their work has been helped, while the Sunday schools cheered and waved hats and handkerchiefs for their leadership.

No more stirring keynote was sounded in the Sunday school meeting than that by Rev. Mr. Hendrickson of the United Brethren Church, who said "Shall I say we are all united brethren—no united Christians?" This was roundly applauded by the large audience. D. L. Sherrick, superintendent of the Sunday school for 28 years, was overflowed and said he was among the happiest days and most promising of his service.

In the afternoon the place was crowded again, and after hearing reports from those who have sent out the letters asking contributions of $1 from their dental friends to help pay for the tabernacle, Mr. Davis gave a remarkable talk. The committee which will handle the contributions made up of the funds in the work house, additional to the first sentence with an order to restore the goods and pay $1 and costs, was the penalty of robbing the Kelly store. In its place there was substituted a sum and cause money was all turned in and in the other revolver sales and watches valued at $3.

Three months in the work house with an order for the restoration of

CRIMINAL COURT

Opened in Westmoreland County This Morning With Three Judges.

Special to The Courier.

GREENSBURG, Nov. 11.—Court opened this morning with three judges from the circuit. The term Judge Willis D. Paxton of Westmoreland county arrived this morning and will preside most of the week. Judge James W. Shultz of the forty-first judicial district consisting of Juniata and Fayette counties, here Thursday last hour the Muhsell case. The case was listed for this morning, but later carried over to Thursday. Judge Doty and McConnell will receive the returns of constables and instruct the juries in their duties.

Aside from the Muhsell case, in which Albert Baker and Thomas Paxton are charged with violating the election laws, the Export riot case, will again be postponed to the list. It is reported that the case will be hotly contested and it may last almost a week in trial.

Judge F. W. Doty and Judge A. P. McConnell conducted a short session of court this morning.

Sentences were imposed upon those who had pleaded guilty, by Judge McConnell.

For burglarizing the stores of Messrs. H. and J. Baum of Butler, in October, Paxton imposed two sentences. Three months to the work house with an additional order to restore the stolen goods and pay fine of $1 and costs, was the penalty for the first offense, and six months to the work house, additional to the first sentence with an order to restore the goods and pay $1 and costs, was the penalty of robbing the Kelly store. In its place there was substituted a sum and cause money was all turned in and in the other revolver sales and watches valued at $3.

Three months in the work house with an order for the restoration of the stolen goods and the payment of $1 and costs were imposed upon Muhsell for breaking into and entering a shop at the Standard mine of the U. C. Mine Coke Company at Mt. Pleasant. Muhsell had entered the shop and had stolen $100.

The day is full, a fine of $1 and costs and an order to restore the stolen property was the sentence imposed upon Charles Smith of Jenmett, for breaking by ballot.

For compelling his wife to support his large family and then beating her, David Beckins of Jenmett, was given 60 days in jail, and was ordered to pay $1 and costs.

The two free use of a whip on John for having sold M. Gibbons, of Derry township $5 and costs. He was charged with assault and battery.

Costa Merle, John Sopris and John Mowatish, miners, were fined $10 and costs each, for violation of the mining laws.

Action Started In Somerset County May Mean a New Line Through the State on Which Work Was Stopped 30 Years Ago.

The projected South Penn railroad of the early eighties, with which William H. Vanderbilt's memorable expression, "The public be damned," was associated, may be resurrected, and its graded roadway stretching across the State may soon carry marauding coal trains at a grade far superior to any other surveyed through this territory.

This is what is thought to be back of a scheme just now being put into effect by a petition to the State Railroad Commission to have the leading part. The petition sets forth that the signers, several hundred in number, deemed it to be in the best interests of the public to have the charter of the railroad of the South Penn charter on the ground of abandonment.

The petitioners cite various legal authorities for such action on the part of the railroad commission, among them that the whole State to have the South Penn controlled by a company that would compete with the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, and the Western Maryland, the latter now in course of construction.

In 1894 the charter of the South Penn railroad was sold at auction to persons who represented the Baltimore & Ohio, whose evident purpose was to hold the charter and thus avoid another competing line across the State.

It was nearly 30 years ago that the South Penn was surveyed and graded. The roadbed consists almost exclusively of a succession of cut and fill, and the maximum grade is 60 feet to the mile. It cost the Vanderbilt millions of dollars. When work on the project was stopped the grading had been completed in many places and long tunnels in Somerset and through the Allegheny and Laurel Hill mountains were about half finished.

The South Penn was a Vanderbilt venture, and was intended as a competitor against the Pennsylvania. The cause of its abandonment is a mystery. The Pennsy and the Vanderbilt interests by which the Vanderbilts secured control of the West Shore railroad then owned by the Pennsylvania interests, which was a competitor to the Pennsy.

"The public be damned" exclaimed the elder Vanderbilt when the public's immense loss was pointed out to him in the abandonment of the project, and his regret has gone down in history.

It is not known in detail what the petitions before circulated. The petitions were brought to Somerset by outside persons and placed in the hands of local men who are securing signatures. It is supposed the project will be given up if the signatures in place of the hands of some company which would be at liberty to construct another competing line.

Despondent Man Dies by Poison

Special to The Courier.

SOMMERTON, Nov. 11.—Friends here received word Sunday morning that Charles Holmes, 50, a retired coal miner, a son of Calvin and Anna Burge Holmes, had made his home here with his mother, who is a daughter of the late P. G. and Martha Murphy, his parents, who died recently.

The unfortunate man was well known here. He was a perfect specimen of physical manhood, endowed with gifts that properly cultivated would have fitted him to all my positions in life. He had followed the painter's craft to hand. However, he would work in the mines, thinking of the day he would take up his brush and follow painting, both plain and artistic. He was following the latter vocation when he committed the rash act. He possessed more than sufficient means for his support, having sang in the choir of the Baptist church here and attracted general and favorable comment for the wonderful volume and range of his voice as a bass singer.

Holmes had an attempt to kill himself two or three years ago and was prevented from accomplishing the deed by his brother, Ewing, wrenching the knife with which he was trying to cut his throat from his grasp. Holmes was about 30 years of age. The remains were brought to Sommerton for interment and taken to the home of the mother in East Smithfield.

Holmes was suffering from the effects of a prolonged spree and was in very poor condition, failing to move or crawl better slowly. Because of his illness he was not locked in the cell at the jail but was allowed the freedom of the jail room. Dr. Kuhn treated him.

Holmes seemed to be in unusually good spirits and was looking forward to his release which he expected in a few days more. Toward evening he began to ramble around in the snake and cobweb in the building and down the stairs. He was full of strong carbolic acid. Without a word of explanation or warning he put the bottle to his lips and took three swallows of the deadly drug. He fell to the floor unconscious. Mrs. Shiner had witnessed the act and rushed forward in time to grab the bottle, then almost empty from the hand of the snake. Shiner then began to cry at the top of her voice for the jailer and the men in charge of the Central Station, who on his charge of the jail rushed to the building and unlocked the door. Holmes was then lying on the floor dying and before an effort could be made to secure a physician he was dead.

Splendid Concert at Vanderbilt

Special to The Courier.

VANDERBILT, Nov. 14.—One of the finest concerts ever given in this place was that by the Budget Concert Company which appeared here Saturday evening. Miss Barrett was an impersonator and a young artist of rare ability. She was surprised by Mr. Bachelder on the flute and piccolo, Mr. Erdby on violin, and Mr. Shields as pianist, each of whom is an artist in his line. A large and appreciative audience was in attendance.

This was the first of a series of entertainments to be given here under the auspices of the Saturday Afternoon Club. Having no hall in which to hold concerts the Presbyterian Church will be used. The generous support of the public has made it possible for the town to have such a high grade of entertainments. The next number will be given December 15th.

PEERLESS WON.

Went to Uniontown and Took Two of Three Games.

The Peacock Amusement Company's duckpin team journeyed to Uniontown Thursday night and gave the Clintonian pin spiders a surprise by winning two out of three games and winning in total pins by the margin of 61 pins. There is great rivalry between these two teams and it came as a surprise to Uniontown to be taken over. Rowes had high score of 128 and an average of 110 for Peerless, and Babe Frankensberry had high score of 118 for Uniontown. A return game will be played in Scottdale next week. The score:

MISS SELINA LUE

and the Soap-box Babies

CHAPTER I.

Ethel Maud Says Her Thumb.

"If grown-ups would just chaw one another's good luck, they could get a keep of satisfaction from it." —Miss Selina Lue.

"Miss Selina Lue! Oh—oh—oh—bo, Miss Selina Lue! Boo—hoo—hoo."

"You, Bonnie, honey, quit crying this minute and tell me what the matter is. Come here and let me see!" And Miss Selina Lue made a grab for the grief contorted youngster who was dancing with excitement in the grocery door. "Now, where is the place? Put your hand where you hurt if you can't say it!"

"Oh—ho—ho, 'taint me a tall! It's Ethel Maud, and she's sewed herself in the sewing-machine and pa's cuttin' something awful and ma's sick to her stomach. Please, ma'am, come quick and git her out!"

"Janda aliv!" said Miss Selina Lue as she reached with one hand for a sunbonnet hanging on the wall and pulled the top on the pickle barrel with the other. "Miss Cynthia, honey, can't you stay here for a few minutes until I can send Mr. Dobbs back to tend the store? And whatever you do, don't let nothing happen to the babies in the soap boxes. The red-headed Flarity twin has been trying to turn bigs over all morning; watch him. Please hand me that turkey-tail duster hanging over there on the wall, while I straighten out my water waves. They ain't nothing like burnt feathers or hair to bring up them that's in a faint, and I never go without 'em to burn!"

And after a quick glance into her little bedroom mirror, Miss Selina Lue hurried down the street, leaving an uncertainty as to whether the turkey-tail or her own soft waves were to be sacrificed in the cause of reactivation.

"Gracious me, Miss Selina Lue, who's hurt now?" called Mrs. Kinney from her side door, standing with a hot fat-iron dangling from her hand.

Mrs. Jim Peters also hailed from her kitchen window, and Miss Selina Lue kept sternly on her course, plighted by the sobbing but important Bonnie.

In the first of the three rooms that formed the Dobbs residence Miss Selina Lue found the pathetic little figure of Ethel Maud hanging against the corner of the sewing machine while Mr. Dobbs, red and embarrassed, stood trembling by the window, and the maternal relative of the young sufferer leaned against a chair, white and heavying.

At sight of the deliverer, Ethel Maud gave a relieved whisper and her tortured head fell over on Miss Selina Lue's bosom, the depths of which were stirred by more than the mere suffering.

In a few minutes Miss Selina Lue departed and attempted to hasten down the street, but was interrupted at every turn, it seemed. On the corner she met Mr. Dobbs, whose steps were faltering towards home.

"Miss Selina Lue," he said sheepishly, with his face turned away from her, "if it had a been Ben, now, I could—done it; but the little 'un—I—I—"

"Mr. Dobbs, I respect you for your feelings for I seen the thought ter help were in your mind, but Ethel Maud is a slimy little thing as would be hard for a man to handle. She is unclean, and I expect Mr. Dobbs have got your dinner ready by now."

"I thank you, Miss Selina Lue, ma'am, and I do say as how you be the master hand with the young uns. I was just a-tellin' Miss Cynthia, who is a-waitin' to see you, that it do seem a pity—"

Miss Selina Lue's progress down the street was remissed before Mr. Dobbs had exactly formulated the regrets he wished to express, but whose nature Miss Selina Lue inferred from explication.

But her hurried return to her own affairs was not to be permitted by the anxious neighbors along the path of duty which she had trod so excitedly with Dennis Dobbs an hour before. Mrs. Kinney had been sitting on the hot stove of curiosity, and her face was determined and her voice was compelling as she haled from her stool.

"Wait a minute, Miss Selina Lue, can't you? Whatever was the matter with the Dobbs?" she said, draping herself over the pocket-fence as if she had come to hear the news. If took all morning and all the backbone she possessed to extract it.

"It was a bad accident, but it might've been worse if she had a run it in her eye, though that wouldn't be hard for her to do unless it had been something like a knitting needle. A thumb ain't so much use except in peeling potatoes and such, as a sorter balanced wheel for the rest of the hand," answered Miss Selina Lue, commencing in the dramatic part of the tale without any unnecessary pugnacity.

"Now, wait that like Mary Ellen Dobbs" I never seen such a pawson for keelessness. It's a wonder she ain't did it before! It will be powerful awf'ward to be without a thumb when it comes to going to meetin' in a gentle way with gloves."

"It did! It did!" wailed the small sufferer, for the first time giving way to the to-be-expected lamentations of one injured. "Everybody stumps them a toe, but they didn't ever anybody get sewed up in a sewing machine before."

There have been sales here and elsewhere, strenuous efforts have been put forth to bring results, but never before have we nor any other store in this section gone about it in such an earnest and thorough manner as in preparing for this Great Sample Sale. This is the first time in this section that a sale of this kind was ever conducted. A sale that makes the only way in the world possible for first class merchandise to be bought at prices you will pay during this sale. For weeks have we been negotiating with some of the best houses in the country whose products are well known to us and to many other good stores throughout the country. A flying trip to New York Monday night, October 31, on the B. & O. Flyer No. 12, was the result of our correspondence. The samples looked at, and prices agreed upon, in most cases from 33 to 50 per cent off. In spite of the Great Express Strike in New York our office, located at 594 Broadway, did their utmost best to get goods here in time for this Great Sample Sale. Trunks were checked and now they are here ready for this Great Sample Sale. There can be no question as to the desirability of the merchandise for the manufacturers always see to it that the samples do full justice to their lines and we went only after standard lines whose products are universally recognized. We will not try to enumerate all the lots for some are too small to be advertised, but sample prices will be in evidence all through our crowded store, which is so conveniently located in the center of Connellsburg's shopping district. Stop in just as you get off the car, and you know it is only about two minutes walk from the B. & O. and P. R. R. Stations, right on Main street, corner Flisbee alley. You know where this store is, and if you don't, this is a profitable chance for you to get acquainted.

NEVER ANY INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, OR SICK, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH.

A Little Diapensis Will Make You Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Diapensis, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach. It doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50 cent case of Pope's Diapensis and let you eat one 22-grain tablet and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souling, the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice, your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, vomiting nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, flatulence, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or you feel like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any, that there is nothing really wrong, that there is nothing really wrong.

Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take the little Diapensis.

They are so cold to us when I ask questions just outta sympathy.

"Yes, they do Miss Kinney, honey, and don't you go to troubling your friends, which is a poor thing for any body to do. When you want to sympathize with me I am always glad to git it and consider it a blessed thing to have, whether I need it or not.

Sympathy is just the pure juice of the heart squeezed out for a friend."

"That's like you, Miss Selina Lue a patchin' up people's hurt feelings and children with kind words and larges."

"Well, Miss Selina Lue, I am sugar put on the heating shoulder. I wouldn't hurt your feelings for worlds. Now, who but you consider been so kind and thought up all them afflictions for the Dobbes?"

"It had just it," sobbed the friendly

"You ain't been in to see him for two days Miss Selina Lue, and we're both gittin' downright lousy with you," she said. Mrs. Jim Peters was very young, Jim was also young and was conductor on the "Electric"; and Jim, junior, was the youngest of all; in fact was of such a youngness that he was still blushing into very red with mortification over his very recent illness.

Homestead vs. Connellsville.
South Side at McKeesport.
Johnstown at Uniontown.

The Cokers went to Johnstown Saturday night and, as was expected, they lost.

When the whistle blew for the end of the second half Kummer's men had made a driving finish that found them only one point behind. It was an uphill fight throughout. Connellsville playing brilliantly to overcome Johnstown's early lead, and almost doing it. The score was 26 to 17 in favor of Johnstown at the end of the first half. In the second half the Cokers piled up 27 points to Johnstown's 10. Both teams made the same number of field goals—11.

It was the first game this season that the Cokers have shown their true form shooting from the field. Kummer and Doherty were the brilliant stars. Kummer shot six goals and Doherty had five to his credit. The Cokers earned the ball from every corner of the floor and their work was far more sensational than that of Johnstown.

Bergs and Doherty were particularly strong in guarding and gave the Johnstown forwards the worst trouble they have encountered this season. While Kid Davis did not have many field goals, his work was largely responsible for many that were earned. In the second half the Cokers had the best of the argument all the way and only the timely tap of the gong saved Johnstown from its first defeat.

Doyle, while not a regular center and not built for the position, gave Haggerty all kinds of trouble and in the second half made the big fellow work harder than ever. Johnstown showed flashes of great form, especially in the first half. The team displayed splendid team work. Its passing was mediocre in spots and there were repeated fumbles. With a regular center man like the Cokers will make Johnstown go the limit in succeeding games.

The Cokers will play Homestead here this evening, go to Homestead tomorrow and then rest until Friday when Johnstown comes here. Saturday night's score:

Johnstown 4½	Connellsville 44
Pokey 10	Kummer 12
Doherty 5	Doyle 1
Haggerty 1	Doherty 1
McLaughlin 0	Doyle 1
Others 0	Others 0

Basketball Notes.

Captain William Kummer has given the fans a chance to get acquainted with the basket. Kummer's foot shooting is especially bad, but just wait until Captain Bill starts tossing them in from the field. Then there will be some real shooting.

Harry Deegs is a player who can be counted upon to charge down the field now and then and gracefully deposit the ball through the netting. One of the favorite players during the season is the other guard is Doherty who impresses the fans upon first appearance as being a hard worker who puts his whole soul into the game while play is on. Poor Bill Doherty is lightning fast.

Doherty is playing under a great disadvantage. He has been compelled to give up basketball because he is better qualified for that position causes him to look weak. Much is far from being the case for Doherty is a corking good basketball player and in forward makes the best of them take notice.

Incidentally it might be mentioned that some of the many things sold about Doherty from Uniontown is merely an attempt to reopen the old scores of last season where a long string of successes were derived from the hand of McClellanburg still rankles in the minds of Uniontown fans. The fans here will have to be shown before they will believe the gulf printed about the Cokers from the county seat.

HIGH SCHOOL IS BEATEN AT KISKI.

Saltsburg Preps Outweighed and Outplayed the Preps From Here.

LOCAL BOYS GAME TO CORE

In Spite of Handicaps They Bitterly Contested Every Yard That Was Gained—Field Slippery and Day Was Not a Good One—Score 26 to 0.

The High School eleven was decisively beaten by the heavier Kiski-Kimberlins eleven at Saltsburg Saturday, losing 26 to 0. The team was outweighed and outplayed, but it was not outgamed. The boys showed sturdy courage and took their beating bravely, bitterly contesting every point. Four touchdowns, three goals from them and a field goal made the score for the Saltsburg boys.

The boys from here were not used to the slippery field and their tackling suffered as a consequence. There was three inches of snow in spots but the play was fast. Cooney Munk, left half back, was injured during the game, sustaining a badly twisted leg, and will be out of the game for the rest of the season. The untimely death of his brother, in any event, would have terminated his football career.

In the first quarter Gordon McEachern had a field goal after Kiski had held goalless for two downs on the 20 yard line. The Kiski boys scored a touchdown in this same quarter. Gordon carrying the ball over after series of line backs, the weight of the Kiski team overwhelming the lighter High school boys. In the second quarter Sheeren made a touchdown after carrying the ball within striking distance of the goal by a brilliant 30 yard run. Two touchdowns were made in the third quarter, that ending the scoring. Both teams resorted to kicking in the last session, Scott holding his own with Sheeren. The lumps.

Doyle is playing under a great disadvantage. He has been compelled to give up basketball because he is better qualified for that position causes him to look weak. Much is far from being the case for Doherty is a corking good basketball player and in forward makes the best of them take notice.

KISKI WAS ROUGH WITH HIGH BOYS

Those who accompanied the High School team to Saltsburg Saturday say the Kiski team was entirely too rough and that the officials of the game were not sufficiently strict in enforcing the rules. The East Library Academy team won Kiski that Connellsville played rough ball and the Kiski outfit was pummeled. Even before the game one of the officials told a Connellsville man he "had his number."

The game was a slaughter for the locals were far outweighed. Kiski played its strongest eleven. When the game ended but five regular players of the Connellsville team remained in the game. Fortunately none was seriously, or even painfully hurt, but it wasn't Kiski's fault.

COKERS WILL MAKE PROTEST OVER GAME

It is understood the Cokers will protest Saturday's game at Johnstown. The referee pulled off some very bad work in the last half, allowing Fogarty a field goal and a double foul when he should have been penalized for running with the ball.

That is what the players say. They are anxious to have the game fought over because, as they say, they played Johnstown off their feet and should have won, with a fair deal, 11 to 11.
